

RIOTOUS SCENES IN WHEAT PIT AT CHICAGO TODAY

IT IS PREDICTED THAT THE
PRICE OF THE CEREAL WILL GO TO $1.25.

A REACTIONARY EFFECT

When Profit Taking Began, But When Market Closed There Was
a Bule Again.

Chicago, May 11.—"Wheat will go to $1.25," was predicted by the big traders on the board this morning a few minutes after the market opened. The prices straightway jumped by unprecedented increases from the closing price of 86 1-4 Friday until it passed the expectations of the bulls.

May wheat soared to 87 7-8. July wheat was the sensational point of the market. The opening price of 88 5-8 went up until it reached 98 5-8. Excitement increased as the prices advanced. The riotous scenes equalled those of the latter days. A sky rocket tendency was given an impetus when an early report from the Northwest to the effect that frost had fallen in the wheat belt was read.

Outside markets in Minneapolis, Duluth, St. Louis and Kansas City, showed the same sensational conditions. The price of flour advanced $1 a barrel this morning.

Profit taking late caused a reaction but a bulge was on at the close. May closed at 89 1-3, July at 91 3-4, No. 2 red winter 89 1-2 at 90.

The advance was 3 to 3 3-8 cents it was a buying craze.

BIG FIRE RAGING

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 11.—A serious fire is raging at Georgetown, a suburb, and threatens to wipe out the entire town. Twelve buildings on the main street are already destroyed. New York, May 11.—Fire caused a loss estimated at $500,000 in the building at the corner of Sixth avenue and Thirteenth street, occupied by Sheppard, Knapp & Company, dealers in furniture and carpets. One wing of the building was almost completely cleaned out. The heavy loss is due to the fact that the firm carried a very valuable stock of wares, including many high-priced oriental rugs.

Anarchist Arrested.
Bucharest, May 11.—An anarchist named Gaidoff, charged with complicity in a plot against the life of King Charles, was arrested here. The police seized also a quantity of anarchistic pamphlets, a machine for the manufacture of bombs, some dynamite and correspondence with certain Bulgarian anarchists, including one of the men implicated in the assassination of Petkoff, the Bulgarian premier, last March. Gaidoff was examined by a magistrate but refused to reveal the name of his associates or impart any details of the conspiracy.

NEWARK'S LIVE ONES

Mr. George D. Bradshaw who was already an experienced man in the business he is now engaged in, came to Newark from New York in 1903, at the solicitation of the Powers-Miller Company. A short time afterwards Mr. Bradshaw was elected president and general manager of the company's store in the Union block, and the success to which the business has attained is in a great measure due to Mr. Bradshaw's business qualifications and his personality.

The success of the department feature when Mr. Bradshaw first came, was problematical as it was an innovation but now it is recognized as one of the necessities, and this business certainly fills a long felt want.

Mr. Bradshaw is a member of the Masonic fraternity and of the Masonic club, an Elk and an active member of the Board of Trade, and always is foremost in doing his share in promoting public enterprise.

He likes Newark and is a charter member of the "Strenuous Club" organized expressly to promote the welfare of the community.

TATE IS GUILTY OF BURGLARY SAYS THE JURY

Chicago, May 11.—Edwin S. Tate, who gained notoriety recently on a charge of having been employed by Newton C. Dougherty, former president of the Peoria (Ill.) board of education, but now serving a sentence in the Joliet penitentiary, to blow open the board's safe, was found guilty here of burglary by a jury in the criminal court. In his defense Tate alleged that the burglary was one arranged by the Chicago police whereby he was being "jobbed." That the jury was inclined to believe part of his story was true was shown by the jurors, who recommended him in their verdict to the clemency of the court. Tate will be sentenced to the penitentiary under the indeterminate law.

JULY NUMBER OF OHIO MAGAZINE NEWARK EDITION

TWENTY-THOUSAND COPIES OF
THIS POPULAR PERIODICAL
WILL BE CIRCULATED

WHICH CONTAINS ARTICLES

On the General History of Licking
County and Newark's Industrial Advantages.

The Ohio Magazine, a publication which has lately become very popular, though comparatively new, will devote its issue for the month of July to advance the interests of the city of Newark, and to the exploitation of the advantages of Licking county. The management has been planning this feature for a few weeks and the details were worked out Friday night at a meeting of the directors of the board of trade, at which Mr. Webster P. Huntington of Columbus, was present to represent his magazine.

Mr. Huntington submitted his proposition to the directors, and after considering it in detail, they indorsed it unanimously.

It is the intention of the publishers to make the July issue of the magazine a "Newark number," of which the city may well be proud. According to the present plans there will be five or six articles on Newark and Licking county, all of which will be handsomely illustrated with half-tone reproductions from special photographs.

All the articles will be written by special writers secured for this issue, some of the articles probably being the work of local writers.

There will be a complete article on the history of Newark and Licking county. But few counties in the state have figured more in the state's history than Licking, and a chronicle of events since the first settlement would make an interesting article.

Another article will deal with industrial Newark. This will be a story of the wonderful advance made by the city's industries in the past 20 years. This will be illustrated by a number of original photographs.

This feature will be given prominence with a view of advancing new industries here. It will mention the special facilities for shipping and transportation, Newark's wonderful gas supply, and other features of interest to those seeking new locations.

Another story will give prominence to the social feature of the city with special reference to its many beautiful homes and the wonderful health of the community. This article will be illustrated with photographs.

The financial institutions of Licking county will be dealt with in another article, and there is much data for such a story. An article on the country's agricultural life will be given considerable attention and will be illustrated by a large number of original rural scenes and photographs of some of the leading farm homes of the county.

The magazine management has agreed to send a copy of the magazine to every board of trade, chamber of commerce, and commercial club in the United States. These magazines will be mailed from a list prepared by the interstate commerce commission.

In addition to this, the magazine will be handled by the American News company, and will be on sale at every news stand in the country. The magazine guarantees that there will be not less than 20,000 magazines of this number published and circulated, thus insuring wide publicity to the special articles on Newark and its advantages.

The board of trade will leave the matter in the hands of their special committee, Messrs. Fred M. Black, Archie C. Davis and Fred C. Evans. These men will confer with the management of the magazine regarding the issue of the number and work will commence on getting the matter ready.

Whole Spanish Nation Rejoicing Over the Event, While the World's Rulers Wire Congratulations—Wee Heir Reported a Lusty Youngster. Celebration at the Palace.

Madrid, May 11.—Queen Victoria and the baby prince are both doing well, according to the latest advices from the palace. The news that the direct male succession to the throne of Spain had been assured sent a thrill of rejoicing throughout the nation, and the happy event is being celebrated universally.

Decrees were issued ordering a national holiday through Spain for Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The king decreed the pardon of thousands of prisoners, including eight persons who were condemned to suffer the death penalty. The press of Spain without reservation rejoices in the birth of the little prince.

The baby prince weighs 3,960 grams, which is equal to 8 3/4 pounds. The solemn ceremony of presentation was carried out inside the palace. The mistress of the robes, carrying a huge silver tray upon which was lying the newly born royal baby, accompanied by King Alfonso and Premier Maura, appeared in the ante-chamber, where the courtiers had assembled. The young monarch appeared full of joy as the premier, raising the drapery which covered the infant on the silver tray, said: "Gentlemen, it is a prince." The solemn dignitaries thereupon forgot all etiquette and cheered both the king and the queen heartily. The minister of justice, Marquis Figueroa, made out the birth certificate, which was signed by all the prominent personages present. The gathering then broke up.

King Alfonso telegraphed the good news to the pope. King Edward and the heads of other states, and later the congratulations began to come in. The accomplishment was in every respect normal, and the queen is making very satisfactory progress toward recovery. Her majesty proposes herself to nourish the infant prince, who shows signs of the utmost vitality. He has a strong voice, blue eyes and a fair complexion, like his mother's.

MAN MURDERED WHO FILED SUIT AGAINST SECRETARY

Hot Springs, Ark., May 11.—Dr. T. B. Rider, who recently filed suit in circuit court here against ex-Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock for $100,000 damages, was probably fatally stabbed by Dr. A. C. Williams, one of the best-known practitioners of the city. The two men met at the elevator entrance of the Kemper building and came to immediate blows, Dr. Rider, it is alleged, striking his opponent in the face with a blunt instrument, was in turn stabbed in the abdomen. A disagreement of long standing is said to have existed between the men.

Submarine Boat's Feat.
Newport, R. I., May 11.—All American records for quick diving by a submarine boat were broken when the submarine Octopus went through a series of tests in Coddington cove. The principal test was for the purpose of determining whether the Octopus, while aloft, would be able to get submerged quickly if an enemy should be sighted. Running at full speed on the surface, propelled by gasoline engines, the Octopus received a signal from members of the trial board on board the tender Niack, immediately the engines were stopped and power was furnished by storage batteries. Diving rudders were adjusted, the submarine took 37 tons of water into her tanks and sank to a depth of 25 feet. This was accomplished within four and a half minutes after receiving the signal. A second test reduced the time by about half a minute.

ELIMINATE FORAKER IS THE DESIRE OF SECRETARY TAFT

Cleveland, O., May 11.—The Plain Dealer, in its leading article on the Ohio political situation, today says: "Secretary of War William H. Taft will not accept the presidential indorsement from the Republican leaders of Ohio if it is coupled with an indorsement of Joseph B. Foraker for another term in the United States senate. Late in the afternoon after a day of conference here, Congressman Burton held a long telephone conversation with Secretary Taft at Washington, at the request of the secretary. The secretary stands by his original declaration, made through his managers, that the contest in Ohio has so shaped itself that Senator Foraker must be eliminated not only as a presidential, but as a senatorial figure."

Burton and Senatorship.
Cleveland, O., May 11.—Congressman Burton, when asked if he would be a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Foraker, declared he did not wish at this time to discuss the matter. Mr. Burton said that possibly he would have something to say on the subject a little later. It is believed among Mr. Burton's most intimate friends here that he will shortly announce himself as a candidate for the place.

WILL FILE SUITS AGAINST COMPANIES

For Violation of Safety Appliance Act
Twenty-Five Companies Being Implicated.

Washington, May 11.—It was announced by the interstate commerce commission that Attorney General Burdette had issued instructions to various United States district attorneys to institute proceedings against 25 different railroad companies to exact penalties for violations of the safety appliance law. From time to time the commission has extended the list of the filing of suits of railroad companies with safety appliances. That time limit expired recently, and it is proposed by the commission and the department of justice to make examples of the roads which persist in violating the law.

SETTLEMENT OF 'FRISCO STRIKE STILL FAR AWAY

EFFORTS TO BRING ABOUT
PEACE HAVE BEEN UN-
AVAILING

POLICE MAINTAINING ORDER

Charles Moyer Denies That He is an Ex-Convict—Other Labor Troubles.

San Francisco, May 11.—Mayor Schmitz's committee of fifty, called by him to advise him about settling the present industrial crisis, came near disbanding when President Tracy of the state federation of labor charged that his investigations led him to believe that certain men representing large financial interests were opposed to a settlement of the street-car strike because they wanted to have troops called in and unionism in San Francisco stamped out. The discussion soon became acrimonious, but was stopped by Mayor Schmitz, who called for less talk and more work.

The car strike has resolved into a fight to the finish. Neither side is willing to accept arbitration, and the citizens' committees appointed to secure industrial peace have been unable to find any basis of settlement. It has been demonstrated that the present police force is inadequate and that stronger measures will be necessary to insure a general resumption of service if the struggle is conducted on present lines.

Assistant President Mulally said he had several hundred strikebreakers, motormen and conductors, quartered in the company's barns, and that they are competent to operate practically the entire streetcar system. Mayor Schmitz said the police department is "competent to cope with the situation." Meantime the rank population of San Francisco is deprived of streetcar service, subjected to the alternative of walking or paying five prices for an execrable wagon service.

Moyer's Denial.
Boise, Idaho, May 11.—A statement printed on Friday by the Chicago Journal, charging that one Charles Moyer was in 1886 sentenced to one year in Joliet penitentiary, was printed here and created much discussion. That C. H. Moyer, the prisoner now in the jail here charged with the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, is one and the same man, is denied by the prisoner and his counsel. Moyer, when seen on the subject, said he was working in the mines in the Black Hills country of South Dakota at the time, which is given as between Feb. 4, 1886, and Jan. 4, 1887. He said that it would be easy to verify this by the records of the Castle Creek Gold Mining company at Rockford, South Dakota.

Will Supplant Strikers.
New York, May 11.—The resident heads of the steamship companies, included in the International Mercantile Marine company, assumed the aggressive when, following a conference, they served notice upon the striking longshoremen that unless the latter returned to work within a week their places would be permanently filled by other men. At the meeting the steamship officials reaffirmed their determination not to yield to the demand for higher wages. Patrick Connor, president of the longshoremen's union, predicted full victory for the strikers within 24 hours.

Twelve Hundred Idle.
Salt Lake City, May 11.—The plant of the American Smelting and Refining company at Murray, a suburb, employing between 1,000 and 1,200 men, with a monthly payroll of $75,000, closed down indefinitely and the last one of the "live" furnaces of the eight operated at the plant was allowed to cool. This action of the company follows efforts made for several days to reach a compromise with about 900 Greeks and Austrians, furnace chargers and ore haulers, who walked out because the company would not grant a flat increase of 25 cents per day.

Convicted of Peonage.
Tampa, Fla., May 11.—E. H. Benson of the Pacific Phosphate company was convicted of peonage in the United States court, with a recommendation of mercy from the court. All the peonage cases now have been tried, F. L. Howden and Benson being convicted and Sprott Marshal of Mulberry acquitted.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS. The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mammitt, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair in a month, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 30c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. City Drug Store, Special Agent.

Voice-tone

The sound of a violin is nearer the human voice than any musical instrument.

The sound of the RAYMOND Piano is nearer the human voice than any other piano.

A violin has three gut strings and one of metal yet all four sound smooth, even and voice-like.

The sweetness of tone is due to the strings vibrating against a wood bridge.

All piano strings are metal.

The natural tendency of a wound metal string is to twang.

The strings of the RAYMOND Piano vibrate against a wood bridge.

There is no twang to wood, hence no twang to the human voice of the RAYMOND Piano.

Stradivarius worked 25 years to perfect a violin. We have worked 51 years to perfect the RAYMOND Piano.

You can buy the RAYMOND for a trifle more than an ordinary cheap twanging piano. We guarantee it for 10 years but it will last a lifetime. Don't you think it would pay you to send for our 24-page Piano Book, illustrated in colors—it's free.

Cold Snap Saturday. The cold snap Saturday morning brought out strong contrasts in attire seen upon the streets. One man was seen wearing a straw hat, followed by another with a heavy overcoat. A New Machine. P. McDonald & Son of 20 South Second street have recently added to their business equipments a Fleming shoe machine, which is made in St. Louis, to be used in shoe repairing. The machine is quite an improvement over the old time cobbler. In the presence of an Advocate reporter, the operator sewed a half sole on in one minute. The machine is the only one in the city and does the work quicker, cheaper and neater and better. The machine with the motor and equipment, costs $500, and it is also furnished with a burnisher, polisher and half sole equipment. Mr. McDonald and son are to be congratulated on their enterprise and the machine will surely add much to their business.

Saturday, and the North End, Central and East End fire departments responded. It was caused by a passing locomotive and the whole top of the tank was burned off before the blaze was gotten under control.

Moyer-Haywood Case. There has been an extra demand for copies of last Monday's Advocate which contained a three column illustrated article on the Moyer-Haywood case written by Robertus Love. The startling features of the tragedy, in which millions of citizens are vitally interested is told in graphic style. The Advocate still has a few copies of the issue of May 6 for those who want them.

Denison Aduym 1907. Denison university's year book The Aduym, volume 14, published by the class of 1908 is just from the press and is being received with hearty approval by all who have seen it. The Aduym this year takes a different form but it is a handsome volume of over 250 pages, well printed, beautifully illustrated, ably edited and handsomely bound in white leather. The 1907 Aduym is a credit to the Junior class and to the Granville college.

Class Outing. The young ladies of Rev. H. S. Bailey's Sunday school class of the West Main street M. E. church were botanizing Saturday, and their nature study was of the most thorough kind. The members of the class, accompanied by Rev. Mr. Bailey left on the 9:45 a. m. interurban train for Black Hand, the scene of their investigations. The trip was a most profitable one.

Sprained Knee Cap. Russell Hayes, the 17 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes, residing at 837 Shuler street, in the East End, had the misfortune to meet with a very painful accident Saturday morning. CONTEST IS REMARKABLY CLOSE IN SEVERAL OF 10 DISTRICTS

Misses Neff, Botts, Howard, Bentz, Young, Hays, Varner, Taylor and Beaver or their friends all voted "special" coupons Friday and the total vote in the Advocate's contest was increased to 172,308. The contestants remain in the same relative position as Friday except Miss Varner advances to third position in District No. 7, having 46 more votes than Miss Hays.

As will be seen by consulting the table, the contest is remarkably close in many of the 10 districts, and in the past few days several of the candidates have made heavy gains. The vote given the latest candidate to enter the contest, shows what can be done in three or four days.

A heavy vote is being polled Saturday and the table on Monday will contain Saturday's vote may show some interesting changes. Friends of the contestants are just beginning to take an interest in the race and a number of young ladies, encouraged by the way their friends are talking are almost persuaded to enter the contest. The present standing of the contestants shows there is plenty of room, a splendid chance for an energetic young woman to win. The Advocate will send 10 to Jamestown for a 10 day trip.

Up to Friday night Miss Beaver still leads in the diamond ring contest, Miss McMillen, Miss Varner and Miss Bentz being tied for second place. Misses Davis, Young, Miller and Sutton are close thirds and 12 other contestants are also "strictly in" the ring contest. The ring contest has just 16 more days to run. It closes at 4 p. m. May 27. A second prize of $10 will be given in this contest which is for the greatest number of new subscribers for the Daily edition.

In the published standing of the contestants 300 votes by error were credited to Miss Seward. The error was generously called to the Advocate's attention by Miss Seward herself and proper correction is made today. In this connection the Advocate will say that the actual record by which the contest is decided will be absolutely accurate. Every coupon both "specials" and "singles" is preserved on file and the receipts, ballots and vote ledger are so numbered that a correct book record is kept and all accounts will be verified. The records are open for the inspection of the contestants and their friends at any time. The error was made in copying the figures from the ledger for publication and not in the ledger itself. The vote belonged to no other contestant.

KAISER WILLIAM AS A WITNESS

Munich, May 11.—In a suit for calumny brought by Dr. Carl Peters, the former African explorer, against a Socialist newspaper, the Muenchener Post, the editor made the unusual request that the court take Emperor William's testimony on several points. The court took the request under consideration. The emperor has never hitherto figured as a witness in courts, and if the judge grants the editor's demand his majesty's testimony will be taken by a deputized official of the court at such place as the emperor prescribes.

City of Mexico, May 11.—The Guatemalan affair has been settled. Mexico will not persist in her demand for the extradition of General Jose Luna and of Colonel Onofre Bone, charged with complicity in the assassination of General Barrios. Diplomatic relations will not be severed. Senor Gamboa, Mexico's minister to Guatemala, will be sent to Salvador, a Mexican consul will attend to this country's affairs in Guatemala. GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, O., May 11—Inquiries are heard from various people about tickets for the Festival. If any have not yet been visited by a member of the committee, it is not because they have been over looked, but because two or three of the solicitors have been unable to do their work. However they will have finished the canvass in time for the seat reservation.
 If you do not care to wait for them,
 Mrs. Ullman will supply you with subscription blanks and tickets, and any information needed. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Case,
 Mrs. White, Mrs. Trask, Mrs. Tight,
 Miss Howland, Miss Farrar, Miss
 Thompson, Miss Sorenson, Prof.
 Stickney and five Denison men.
 Mr. John L. Jones, father of Llewellyn Jones and Boaz Jones, has been lying critically ill at his home
 on Maple street for some days.
 Mrs. Carrie Williams of Fostoria, who has been visiting friends and relatives here for the past week, returned home Friday.

The Denison track left for Wous-ter this morning where it will tackle the crack team of the Presbyterians of that place. While the Denisonians do not expect to win an overwhelming victory, still they expect to lead in the game. The Presbyterians are better prepared for the contest than the Denison bunch, owing to the fact that they have been in training for some time under the instruction of a special trainer, while Denison has been unable to do anything, mostly on account of the bad weather. The Denison team is composed of the following husky lads:
 H. Huffman, manager; H. S. Binkley, captain; K. J. Campbell, G. H.
 Crowe, T. Waul, H. Pamment, K. L.
 Jewett, H. E. Rogers and W. S. Willis.

Mrs. H. P. Martin and little son,
 Henry of Bucyrus, who have been visiting in Granville and vicinity for the past week, returned home Friday.
 John Smith, residing at the corner
 of Broadway and Prospect streets,
 who has been quite ill for some days,
 is reported as being somewhat improved at this writing.

LOCAL ELECTIONS

Will Have Full Swing In Ohio
Politics This Year.

SITUATION IN THE CHIEF CITIES

Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland
 Will be One of the Chief Figures In Municipal Contests — Presidential Politics Practically Shuffled For the Present—State Affairs.

Columbus, O., May 11. — Having practically shelved national politics
 for this year, Ohio will turn next to the municipal campaigns that will spring up fiercely all over the state.
 Under the plan for separating local from state and national elections, after spring elections were abolished, all municipal offices have concurrent terms and all will expire the first Monday of next January. An entire roster of officers, therefore, is to be elected, mayor, board of public service, solicitor, auditor, treasurer,

TOM L. JOHNSON.
 members of council and school board
 and township officials in all the cities,
 and the village officers of all the villages.

These municipal campaigns will be contested with unusual vigor this year because of the leverage they will furnish in the presidential campaign next year, and naturally the principal fights will be in the four chief cities of the state, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus and Toledo.

Cleveland being the metropolis of Ohio, the municipal campaign of greatest magnitude will be there. Mayor Johnson is going to stand for re-election, and the biggest effort ever attempted will be put forth to defeat
 him. Johnson's defeat will be desired by certain Republicans in Ohio to enhance Congressman Burton's standing in state politics. And Mayor Tom is going to fight it out on his own lines
 because he has his future stakes set outside the corporate limits of the Forest City. Without doubt the C test of first importance in Ohio this year, both in general interest and general results, will be the mayoralty campaign at Cleveland.

Cincinnati will furnish a battlefield where George B. Cox is expected to maneuver for the recovery of the prestige and leadership he lost two years ago. Mayor Dempsey's experiences have been so disappointing to him that he is not considered a candidate for re-election, so that the fight will be made with new leaders on the ground whoever may be within the sanctum-sanctorum at headquarters.

Mayor Badger declares he is not a candidate and will not accept renomination for mayor of Columbus, and entirely new men will head the tickets this year. Neither side is openly grooming anybody but a few days of sunshine and warm showers will bring up boom in cities as well as mushrooms to country orchards.

Toledo will furnish its own variegated campaign hues. Walter F. Brown, chairman of the state Republican central committee, seems to be moving along in the regular Republican grooves, but the overthrow of Southard last year is not forgotten. Brand Whitlock, who fell heir to the golden rule following of Sam Jones, will probably head an independent ticket.
 In recent municipal campaigns Democrats were in the second degree of minority. Nobody ever knows anything about Toledo politics till next day after election, so that nothing more need be said here on the subject.

Dayton and the lesser cities all have local conditions that enter into local campaigns. Substituting an entirely local campaign for the usual fall election, with the bearing it is expected to have on presidential politics will make Ohio just as warm politically this fall
 as ever before.

So engrossed were the politicians in the rapid developments of the past week leading up to the harmony conference at Columbus, May 15, that little else was given more than a passing thought. Developing rapidly from Senator Dick's trip to Cincinnati, his conference here at Columbus with Governor Harris, Secretary John R. Malloy, and others, came first the advice of George B. Cox that municipal and national politics should not be mixed this year, then the Cox proposition that Taft should be indorsed for president, Foraker for senator and Harris for governor, and the calls issued by Dick and Brown for the meeting of the executive and

central committees, county chairman, congressmen and state officials at Columbus May 15. In the reams of fervid interviews that followed, some declaring that Foraker is out of the presidential race and others that he is not; Taft partisans declaring for their original program of elimination against both Foraker and Dick and the counter-contention for the Cox compromise for harmony's sake, the public is not to be blamed for feeling befuddled. What does the public know, anyway, about what political managers are doing until after it is done? But those who keep their ears close to the ground and are not carried away by the shouting that is engaging on at the chin elevation claim that Foraker knows just what every move means and just how it will work out, and was not a bit worried when he went back to Washington to continue the senate committee's investigation of riots at Brownsville, Tex.

One who had the least to say openly was Congressman Burton. He was asked point blank if he coincided in the proposition to give Foraker another term in the senate. Speaking slowly and with emphasis Mr. Burton said: "I think it too early to discuss the senatorial proposition, entirely too early." Then he was asked point blank if he would be a candidate for United States senator, and he said: "I think it too early to talk about that, too.
 There is plenty of time."

In that fact alone, that there is plenty of time, lies the kernel of the whole matter. Pledges and delegates for president come before the nomination of candidates for the legislature in many counties. These pledges will be fulfilled and the delegates delivered before members of the next legislature are elected. It is the legislation that will be elected in November, 1908, that will elect the senator, and not the present legislature at its session in 1908. The president will be elected at the same time members of the legislature are elected. If through any development the nomination should go to Roosevelt instead of to Taft or Foraker or any other state candidate, the binding force of pledges
 would be severely strained by the national convention, for which our strictly local politicians would not be to blame. And it would be long enough between the election of the legislature and election of senator to warp all such obligations into some new alliance that would have its bearing entirely on state politics. This gives plenty of time to fix up a snipe hunt,
 and those who know Foraker pretty well think he knows enough about snipe hunts to look with suspicion on all suggestions for him to hold the bag.

Now for something more important,
 the fish and game war, for instance,
 an interecine strife that has kept up ever since it started, and nobody seems to be old enough to remember when it started. General Speaks, the new state game warden, who is trying to still the tempest in the forests and calm the troubled waters, wants help.
 He asks the public for co-operation, and reminds this same public that the state of Ohio spends thousands of dollars annually for the propagation and protection of game and fish. Quite a number of people seem to know it. A hot fire was put under Paul North,
 president of the fish and game commission, but it didn't burn him. So General Speaks is proceeding with the details of his office, and sent out letters warning people who go abroad with shooting irons that this is the closed season for everything, and that there is no good excuse for being afield with a gun. He is also discouraging certain kinds of fishing now,
 when the sun is just beginning to feel kind and jolly to the bait diggers. He says Sunday fishing will not be for-bidden, which is bad news to Sunday school superintendents; that set lines
 will not be bothered, provided a man has a reasonable number, say two, and is attending to them. The law says that the only legal way to fish in inland waters is by hook and line, bait or lure. All set, bob or trot lines are tabooed. Fishermen who will remember this will save themselves serious trouble later on. There must not be more than three hooks used on a line.
 All nets and traps will be barred. So,
 be careful.

Colonel Byron L. Bargar of Columbus is the author of a book which is soon to appear, entitled "The Law and Customs of Riot Duty." It presents in convenient form all the law which any militia or civil officer in the exercise of his authority on such occasions should know, tells him how to proceed, and gives the forms he ought to employ in his communications and reports to his superiors. The book was suggested by Colonel Bargar's own needs and by those who have seen it it is highly commended as a useful hand-book.

Anti-vaccinationists lost in the supreme court in an attempt to have a rule of the Barborton board of education requiring vaccination before pupils are admitted to the schools, declared an illegal requirement. W. A.
 Milhoff, a resident of Barborton, having two children, refused to submit his children to vaccination, and when the children were refused admission to the schools sought to compel the board to accept them by mandamus.
 The circuit court in deciding the case declared that the rule was proper and could be permanently adopted by the board of education. The anti-vaccinationists hoped at least to secure a decision from the courts to the effect that vaccination could be required only during the prevalence of smallpox as an epidemic, but they failed even in this.

LOCAL ACTORS WORKING HARD "FOR NAVAL ENGAGEMENTS"

Every effort is being put forth by Miss King and the Y. M. C. A. management to make "Naval Engagements" a great success next week.
 The cast, who have worked with Miss King before and are well known to Newark people, are perfecting the play with rapid strides under Miss King's able direction. They have been selected with Miss King's usual carefulness and are composed of the best talent of Newark. In order that no detail might be neglected Miss King is personally superintending the arrangements for stage setting. Elaborate costumes have been ordered from Columbus.

The play itself is a neat little comedy with a good plot and plenty of life. The military characters and atmosphere not only add plenty of force and vigor to the play but make it particularly appropriate at the time of the opening of the great naval exposition of Jamestown.

Interest in the purpose of the entertainment is almost as keen as in the play itself. Patrons of Taylor Hall have many times expressed their desire to assist in a movement to repair and decorate the same, and it is because of these suggestions that this method has been adopted. Already messages have come in, "You can save me tickets for the play; I want to help in decorating the hall."
 One man said, "I will take $5 worth."
 Reserved seats will be on sale at the Y. M. C. A. next Monday morning. The price of admission has been placed low so as not to interfere at all with other entertainments of the month. The price is 25 cents for everybody.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment.
 Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market.
 It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Newark Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Newark. Follow the advice of a Newark citizen and be cured yourself.

Miss Mary E. Manville, of 24 South Fourth street, Newark, O., says:

"Doan's Kidney Pills are the best thing I know of for rheumatic troubles. I got more relief out of one box than from all the other remedies I have ever used. I had suffered a great deal from rheumatism in my loins and back. It caught me first in one place and then in another, but was always present somewhere. Nothing seemed to give any relief until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. Apparently they drove all the rheumatism out of my system for I have never had a return of the trouble and that was over five years ago. My husband has also used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results."

MOB SOUGHT OFFICER'S LIFE

Shot and Killed a Suspect When He Attempted to Escape.

THOUSANDS SURROUND JAIL

Brother of the Victim Exhorts the Crowd to Avenge the Death, but the Lynchers Finally Are Foiled. Wrong Man Accused of the Killing. Excitement in Butte.

Butte, Mont., May 11.—While attempting to escape from jail, Harry Cole was shot and killed by Patrolman Jackson, and an enraged mob of 5,000, led by brothers of Cole, made an ineffectual attempt to lynch Detective Charles McGarvey, the crowd laboring under the impression that it was that officer who had done the shooting. Cole had been arrested by McGarvey on a forgery charge, and was suspected of being one of the two bandits who several days ago held up the north coast limited on the Northern Pacific at Welch Spur, murdering Engineer Frank Clow and wounding Fireman Thomas Sullivan. Cole is a brother of George Cole, who is now serving a 14-year sentence in the Deer Lodge penitentiary for the robbery of the Burlington flyer near this city two years ago.

While being sweated in the office of the police, Cole, it is stated, definitely said that he knew all about the holdup of the limited, and made a dash from the room and ran down an alley leading from the police station. Patrolman Jackson fired, killing Cole instantly. An immense crowd immediately gathered and, the impression gaining ground that McGarvey had killed an innocent drunken man, the cry went up, "Hang McGarvey." Timothy Cole and another brother and a cousin of the dead man took the leadership of the mob, and with more than 4,000 men hastened to the county jail, where they thought McGarvey was hiding. They attempted to force their way through the line of officers with drawn guns. Inside the jail were more officers, armed with rifles. The mob secured a long rope from a derick used in the construction of a building near by, and the shout was made to down the officers. At this point Deputy Sheriff Jack Wyman stopped the leader of the mob and told him that McGarvey had left the jail and that they were welcome to search the building. This was done, no trace of the detective being found.

Dun's Trade Review.

New York, May 11.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Weather conditions, unseasonable almost beyond precedent, have retarded retail trade and agriculture to an extent that can not yet be measured, but the loss will be considerable. Freight congestion is relieved, however, and traffic is very heavy, partly in preparation for fall and winter business, which is viewed with confidence, while last year's pressure causes a big movement of coal and attractive prices bring a vast tonnage of wheat to primary markets. The outlook in the iron and steel industry was never brighter. Steel rails are constantly ordered, much new business being in light rails for trolley lines, and makers of agricultural implements are purchasing bars freely. Textile mills are still actively engaged as a rule, but in the primary markets there is some irregularity. Cotton goods are no cheaper, but the effect of the backward season on retail trade is felt in all departments.

Reduces Freight Rates.

Atlanta, Ga., May 11.—The Georgia railroad commission announced it will issue an order reducing the freight rates of the Seaboard Airline 10 per cent. The present rates fixed by the Seaboard are 25 per cent above the standard rates. The new rates will be effective 30 days after the formal issue of the order, which will be made within a few days. The action was taken on the ground that the earnings of the road have increased largely since the road was allowed to raise rates above the standard, and that the road is now well able to meet the requirements of the commission.

Alleged Shortage.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 11.—The city treasurer, it is alleged, has discovered a shortage in the accounts of the office during the term of E. F. Allen, as treasurer. It is impossible to tell until experts report, how large the shortage is, but it is possible it will exceed $100,000. Specific cases, where shortage is said to have been proved already, amount to about $2,500. Mr. Allen says he has no knowledge of any irregularities in his office. An investigation is being made of all the local improvement accounts.

Ballplayer Sold.

Washington, May 11.—The Washington American league club sold Jake Stahl to the Chicago American club for a price said to be $1,000. The action is the result of a recent decision of the national commission requiring the Washington club to dispose of Stahl within a week.

Anti-Treating Law.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 11.—Governor Folk signed the Carter bill, prohibiting any person from treating another to intoxicating liquors on the day of any general or primary election.

ANY remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves. The nerve centers require nutrition. If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and indigestion is the result.

Peruna is not a nerve nor a stimulant. It benefits the nerves by benefiting digestion.

Peruna frees the stomach of catarrhal congestions and normal digestion is the result.

In other words, Peruna goes to the bottom of the whole difficulty, when the disagreeable symptoms disappear.

Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 61 Marchant street, Watonsville, Cal., writes: "I was troubled with my stomach for six years. I tried many kinds of medicine, also was treated by three doctors. They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I was put on a liquid diet for three months.

"I improved under the treatment, but as soon as I stopped taking the medicine, I got bad again. "I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured. "I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial.

"I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken several bottles and am entirely cured.

"I have gained in strength and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Nervines, such as coal tar preparations, are doing a great deal of harm. Sleep medicines and headache powders are all alike,—heart depressants should not be used. The nerves be all right, if the digestion were Peruna corrects the digestion.

THE BEER THAT HAS THE CALL IS CHAMPAGNE VELVET

This is evidenced by Government records, which, like figures, do not lie; it is evidenced by the imperative necessity of enlarging materially what is already the largest brewery in Indiana.

This steady increase in the consumption of Champagne Velvet is due to the appreciation of the public that it is the best bottled beer that has ever been placed on the market; it is a popular tribute to the superiority of Champagne Velvet over all other beers.

Champagne Velvet is the beer for you—the beer for your home. One bottle will satisfy you of this.

Sharon, Pa., May 11.—Newark hitters took the small end of the score in a terrible bingle fest here yesterday afternoon and Laddy Linke, the Molder's premier twirler was sent to the woods with a 12 hit record hanging to him. Pitcher Muldowney, who dished up the benders for the locals, kept Linke company nearly all the way allowing a few bingles himself. The Molders registering 11 off his delivery.

It was a poor day for baseball, the weather being cold and damp, the fingers of the players were numb and stiff, which accounts for the eight misplays on the field. Newark had four of these, Haval and Wratten on the infield and Snyder in the garden, each having an error to his credit.

Winters was a little off in throwing to base and five of the Sharon bats pliffed Haval's cushion during the game.

Snyder was the star binger of the day. He rang the bell three times, twice his hits counting for two bases. Schweitzer and Wratten and Haval each counted in the hit column, while Davis, who has not got a hit in seven games, broke in to the column with a double.

Manager Berryhill announced that Pitcher Joe Locke will work in Saturday's game on account of the illness of Lefty Webb. The two teams will leave Saturday night for Newark in a special sleeper attached to an Erie train.

NEWARK WON IN 11 INNINGS AT GRANVILLE FRIDAY

The local high school boys trimmed the Doane academy lads Friday afternoon by a score of 6 to 5. The pitching of Freshman Miller of the local high school was marvelous. The lad is but 15 years old, and he had the academy boys guessing all the time. He delivered but six hits in the eleven innings and after the fourth, but one bing was scored off his delivery.

Doane's score in the tenth inning was scored on a base on balls, a stolen base and a hit. This was Miller's only pass in the game. Newark won out on the eleventh. Roach got a hit, stole second and Neihls got a hit scoring Roach.

The boys were met at the interurban car by the university band, and escorted to Beaver field, where the game was played. The Doane academy enthusiasm died out after the fourth when Miller proceeded to mow down their sluggers inning after inning without a hit.

Newark has the best team the school has turned out for several years, and with Miller as a bolster for the pitching staff, the club need not fear any high school team.

BIG ED ASCHER WILL PITCH AGAINST SHARON SLUGGERS

Manager Berryhill has announced that big Ed Ascher, the man who held New Castle to two hits, will twirl in Sunday's game at Wehrle's park, against Sharon. The manager received several requests to allow the big man to work and aside from this things are working to that end as Webb was sick today and big Joe Locke will take his turn in the box. In a special from Sharon it is announced that Edfelt will work the twisters for Sharon and Mattison will catch. Pearce will receive Ascher.

Berryhill announces that Murray will play second and Havel shortstop, and Gagli will be on first. Davis is out of the game, according to the lineup Berryhill has announced.

A special to The Advocate says that both teams will leave in a special sleeper from Sharon to be transferred at Mansfield, arriving in Newark at 6:40 Sunday morning.

This will give the players a good rest for the night, as they will leave Sharon at 7:30 tonight.

PITCHER BECKLE WAS BATTED HARD

Pitcher Beckle, who played a part of the season with Newark and Youngstown last season, and who is this season, got all that was coming to him in Thursday's game with Evansville of the Central League at South Bend. The S. B. boys landed on him in the second inning and got a barrel of bingles, scoring five runs. The bombardment was kept up until South Bend had registered 16 hits. Needless to say, Beckle lost.

BAD ACCIDENT IN A SAW MILL

Andy McMillen Struck By a Piece of Wood and Rendered Unconscious.

Andy McMillen, a well-known resident of Purity, was the victim of an accident Saturday, that came near ending his life. He was regulating some guides near a saw in the saw mill of Charles Boyer, near the Rocky Fork postoffice. In some manner a piece of wood caught in the saw and was thrown with terrific force against McMillen, striking him two inches over the right eye, cutting a deep gash and rendering him unconscious for an hour and a half. Dr. L. L. Marriot, of St. Louisville was called and dressed the wound. About a month ago a similar accident occurred at a saw mill in the same neighborhood in which two men were seriously injured.

Heard Two Shots.

Lakton, Okla., May 11.—Mrs. Edgar Macklin, wife of Captain Macklin, who was called from his quarters the night of Dec. 21 and assaulted, testified at the court martial of Corporal Knowles, the negro accused of the assault, that she heard only two shots fired that night. This testimony corroborates that of Mrs. Johnston, Captain Macklin's negro cook. Macklin was shot twice, and it is probable that the assailant did not receive any bullet wound.

Egg Baking Powder

Saves Eggs, Money, Time, Worry, Health!

Contains White of Egg and Wheat Phosphates

Less eggs are required in the baking because we use eggs in the making of Egg Baking Powder.

That saves money.
The acid ingredient of "Egg" is Wheat Phosphates—a food element that is vitally essential to the human body. On account of the extraordinary leavening power of Egg Baking Powder, 1/2 less is required than of the ordinary kinds.

That saves more money.
When moisture is added, as in baking, little particles of white of egg form countless cells that hold the gas bubbles in pastry, preventing a disastrous "fall." If necessary to leave the room for a moment, after food is prepared for the oven, you can do it safely.

That saves worry.
You can jar the oven as much as you please, without causing the cake, biscuit or pastry to fall.

That saves trouble.
And when the baking is done, it is light, wholesome, appetizing, digestible.

That saves health.
Ordinary baking powders leave an irritating foreign substance in the baking—either Rochelle Salts or Glauber's Salts, depending on whether the baking powder contained cream of tartar or alum.

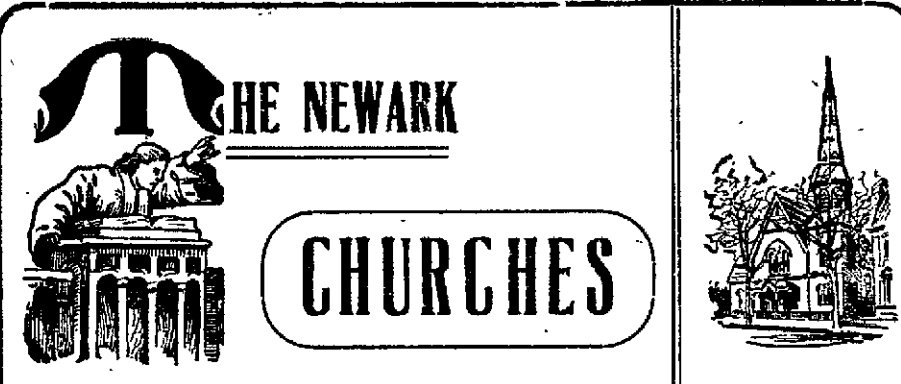

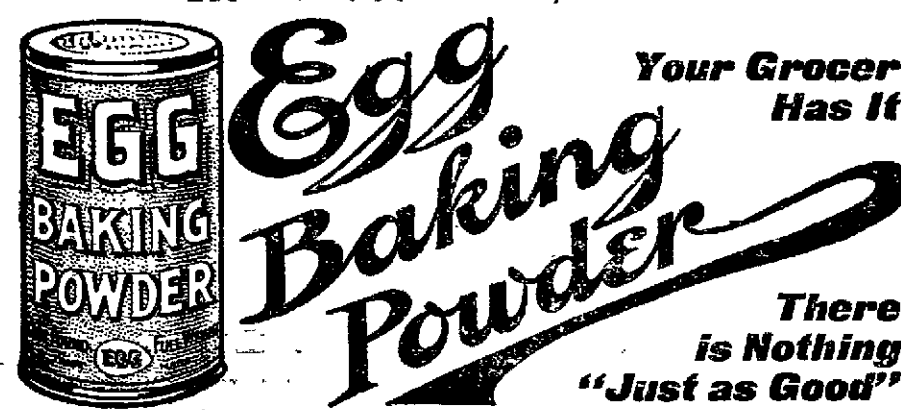

The effects of these foreign substances on the digestion is injurious. They cause dyspepsia.

Avoid bad baking powders!
Egg Baking Powder is pure, sweet and as nourishing as eggs and wheat.

Your grocer has "Egg."
Insist on being supplied with Egg Baking Powder.

GRANVILLE FIRE ON SATURDAY

Completely Destroyed the Handsome Residence of Rev. T. J. Sheppard—Partly Insured.

Granville, O., May 11.—The residence of Rev. T. J. Sheppard, located on Burg street on the hill, just at the edge of town, caught fire Saturday morning shortly after 10 o'clock, and notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of a large number of students and neighbors, was burned to the ground. The fire department was unable to render any assistance, as there is not a fire plug anywhere in the vicinity, and all the students and others could do was to give their attention to saving as much of the furniture as possible, and the result was that they landed nearly all the contents of the house safely in the yard.

The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue on the west side of the house. The loss will probably amount to about $2000, which is partially covered by insurance, but how much is not known at this writing. Rev. Mr. Sheppard is known as the Chaplain of Andersonville Prison.

GRANVILLE FIRE ON SATURDAY

Completely Destroyed the Handsome Residence of Rev. T. J. Sheppard—Partly Insured.

Granville, O., May 11.—The residence of Rev. T. J. Sheppard, located on Burg street on the hill, just at the edge of town, caught fire Saturday morning shortly after 10 o'clock, and notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of a large number of students and neighbors, was burned to the ground. The fire department was unable to render any assistance, as there is not a fire plug anywhere in the vicinity, and all the students and others could do was to give their attention to saving as much of the furniture as possible, and the result was that they landed nearly all the contents of the house safely in the yard.

The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue on the west side of the house. The loss will probably amount to about $2000, which is partially covered by insurance, but how much is not known at this writing. Rev. Mr. Sheppard is known as the Chaplain of Andersonville Prison.

THE WORLD'S BEST SHORT FICTION

A LITTLE FEMININE CASABIANCA

By George Madden Martin

THE close of the first week of Emmy Lou's second year at a certain large public school found her round, chubby self, like a pink-cheeked period, ending the long line of intermingled little boys and girls making what was known, twenty-five years ago, as the First-Reader class. Emmy Lou had spent her first year in the Primer class, where the teacher, Miss Clara by name, had concealed the kindest of hearts behind a brusque and energetic manner, and had possessed, along with her red hair and a temper tinged with that color also, a sharp voice that, by its unexpected snap in attacking some small sinner, had curbed Emmy Lou's little heart to jump many times a day. Here Emmy Lou had spent the year in strenuously guiding a squeaking pencil across a protesting slate, or singing in chorus, as Miss Clara's long wooden pointer went up and down the rows of words on the spelling-chart: "A-t, at; b-a-t, bat; c-a-t, cat; d-o, do; e-n, on; f-u, fu; g-a, ga; h-o, ho; i-n, in; j-u, ju; k-i, ki; l-o, lo; m-a, ma; n-o, no; o-n, on; p-a, pa; q-u, qu; r-a, ra; s-a, sa; t-o, to; u-n, un; v-a, va; w-a, wa; x-o, xo; y-o, yo; z-o, zo."

Among other things incident to that first year, too, had been Recess. At that time everybody was turned out into a brick-paved yard, the boys on one side of a high fence, the girls on the other. And here, waiting without the wooden shed where stood a row of buckets each holding a shiny tin dipper, Emmy Lou would stop on the sloping cut-birds for the thrust of the larger girls to be assuaged, that the little girls' opportunity might come-together with the dices in the buckets. And at Recess, too, along with the danger of being run into by the larger girls at play and having the breath knocked out of one's little body, which made it necessary to seek sequestered corners and peep out thence, there was The Man to be watched for and avoided—the low, square, black-browed, black-bearded Man who brandished a broom at the little girls who dropped their apple-cakes and crusts on the pavements, and who shook his fist at the jeering little boys who dared to swarm to the forbidden top and sit straddling the dividing fence. That Uncle Michael, the janitor, was getting old and had rheumatic twinges was indeed Uncle Michael's excuse, but Emmy Lou did not know this, and her fear of Uncle Michael was great accordingly.

But somehow the Primer year wore away; and one day, toward its close, in the presence of Miss Clara, two solemn-looking gentlemen requested certain little boys to cipher and several little girls to spell, and sent others to the blackboard or the chart, while to Emmy Lou was handed a Primer, open at Page 17, which she was told to read. Knowing Page 17 by heart, and identifying it by its picture, Emmy Lou arose, and her small voice droned forth in sing-song fashion:

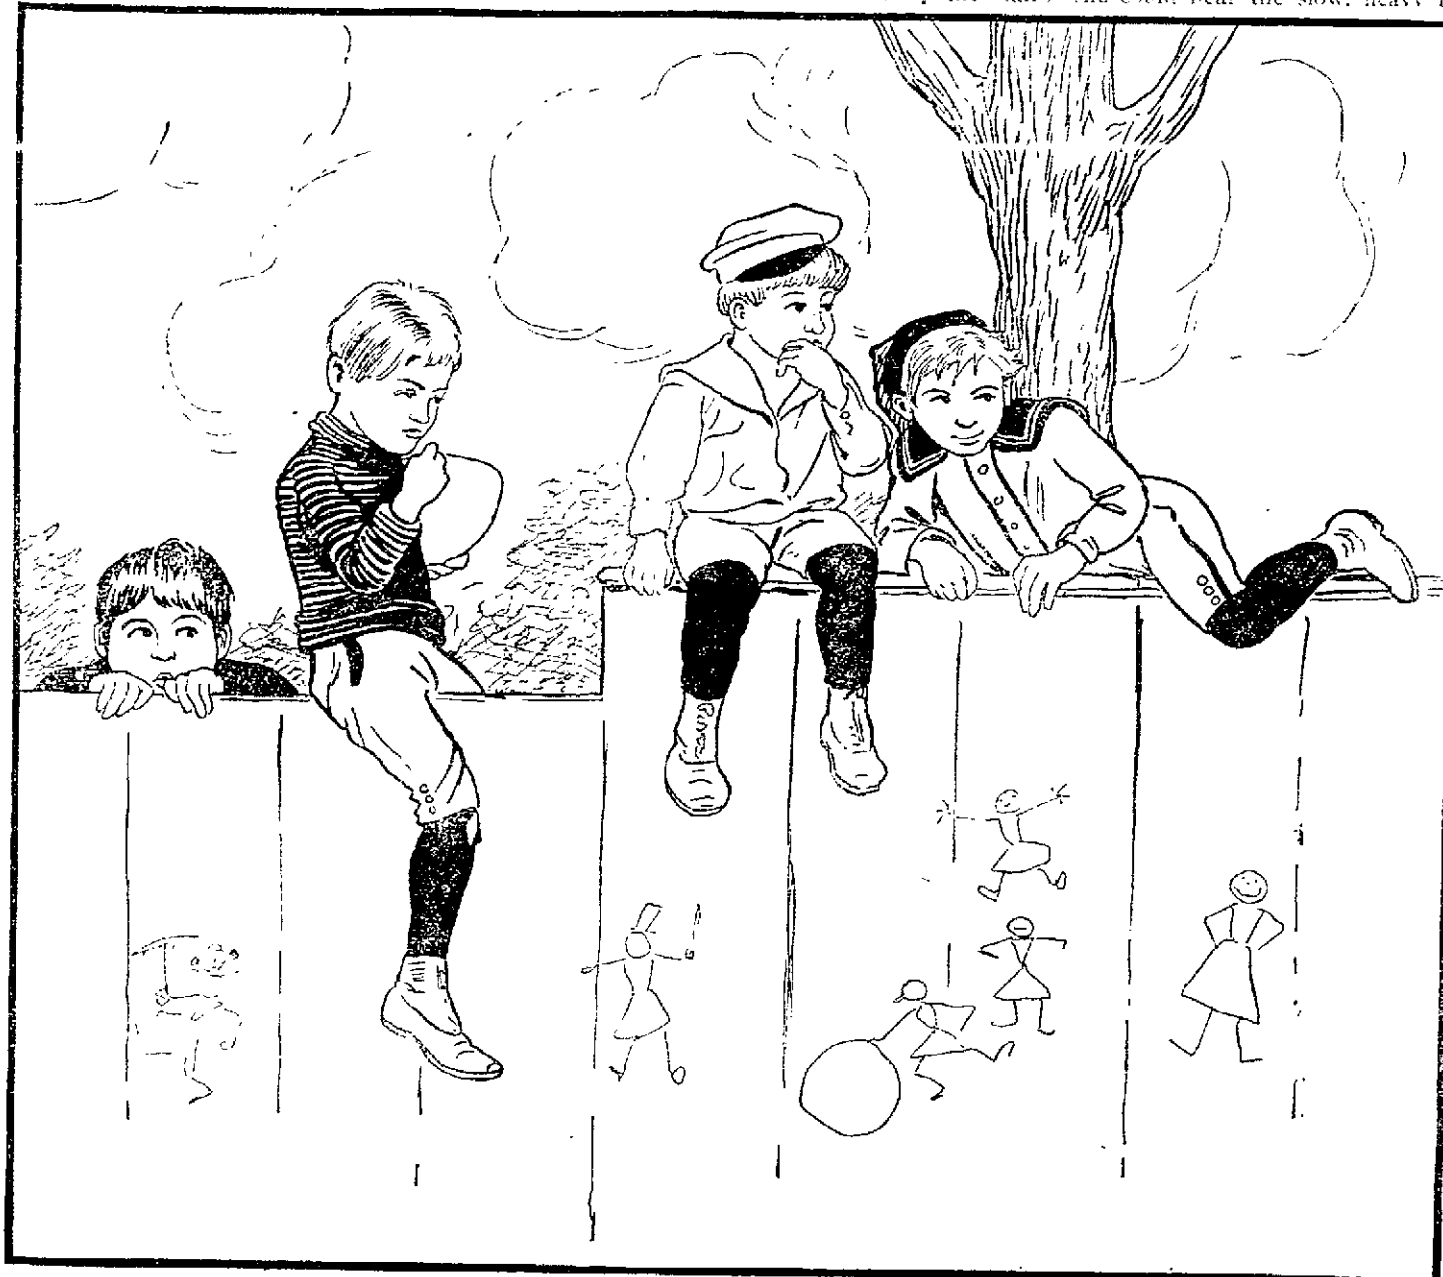

How old are you, Sue?
I am as old as my cat.
And how old is your cat?
My cat is as old as my dog.
And how old is your dog?
My dog is as old as I am.

Having so delivered herself, Emmy Lou sat down, not at all disconcerted to find that she had been holding her Primer upside down.

Following this, Emmy Lou was told that she had "passed," and seeing from the jubilation of the other children that it was a matter to be joyful over, Emmy Lou went home and told the elders of her family that she had passed. And these elders, three aunts and an uncle (an uncle who was disposed to look at Emmy Lou's chubby self and her concerns in jocular fashion), laughed; and Emmy Lou went on wondering what it was all about, which never would have been the case had there been a mother among the elders, for mothers have a way of understanding these things. But to Emmy Lou "mother" had come to mean but a memory which faded as it came, a vague consciousness of encircling arms, of a brooding, tender face, of yearning eyes; and it was only because they told her that Emmy Lou remembered how mother had gone away South, one winter, to get well. That they afterward told her it was Heaven, in no wise could not tell wherein they differed when found for her; that also, Emmy Lou made her figure 8's by adding one uncertain little 0 to the top of another uncertain little 0; and that while Emmy Lou might copy, in smugly columns, certain cabalistic signs off the blackboard, she could not print them off in tens, hundreds, thousands, or read their puerile values, to save her little life. The Large Lady, sorely perplexed within herself as to the proper course to be pursued in the sight of the fifty other First-Readers pointed a condemning forefinger at the

with a sinking sensation of desolation, while tear followed tear down her chubby face. And listening to the flies and the silence, Emmy Lou began to long for even the Bombazine Presence, and dropping her quivering countenance upon her arms folded upon the desk, she sobbed aloud. But the time was long, and the day was warm, and the sobs grew slower, and the breath began to come in long-drawn quivering sighs, and the next Emmy Lou knew she was sitting upright, trembling in every limb, and some one coming up the stairs—she could hear the slow, heavy foot-miserable little object standing in front of her platform, and said, "You will stay after school, Emma Louise, that I may examine further into your qualifications for this grade."

Now Emmy Lou had no idea what it meant—"examine further into your qualifications for this grade." It might be the form of punishment in vogue for the chastisement of the members of the First Reader. But "stay after school" she did understand, and her heart sank, and her little breast heaved.

It was then past the noon recess. In those days, in this particular city, school closed at half-past one. At last the bell for dismissal had rung. The Large Lady, arms folded across her bombazine bosom, had faced the class, and with awesome solemnity had already enunciated, "Attention!" and sixty little people had sat up straight, when the door opened, and a teacher from the floor above came in.

At her whispered confidence, the Large Lady left the room hastily, while the strange teacher, with a hurried "one—two—three, march out quietly, children," turned, and followed her.

Meanwhile, at Emmy Lou's home the elders wondered. "You don't know Emmy Lou," Aunt Cordelia, round, plump, and cherry, insisted to the lady visitor spending the day; "Emmy Lou never loiters."

Aunt Katie, the prettiest auntie, cut off a thick round of melon as they arose from the table, and put it in the refrigerator for Emmy Lou. "It seems a joke," she remarked, "such a baby as Emmy Lou going to school, anyhow; but then she has only a square to go and come."

But Emmy Lou did not come. And by half-past two Aunt Louise, the youngest auntie, started out to find her. But as she stopped on the way at the houses of all the neighbors to inquire, and ran around the corner to Cousin Tom Macklin's to see if Emmy Lou could be there, and then, being but a few doors off, went on around that corner to Cousin Amanda's, the school-house, when she finally reached it, was locked up, with the blinds down at every front window as if it had closed its eyes and gone to sleep. Uncle Michael had a way of cleaning and locking the front of the building first, and going in and out at the back doors. But Aunt Louise did not know this, and, anyhow, she was sure that she would find Emmy Lou at home when she got there.

But Emmy Lou was not at home, and it being now well on in the afternoon, Aunt Katie and Aunt Louise and the lady visitor and the cook all started out in search, while Aunt Cordelia sent the house-boy down-town for Uncle Charlie. Just as Uncle Charlie arrived—and it was past five o'clock by then—some of the children of the neighborhood, having found a small boy living some squares off who confessed to being in the First Reader with Emmy Lou, arrived also, with the small boy in tow.

"She didn't know 'dog' from 'frog' when she saw 'em," stated the small boy with the derision of superior ability, "an' teacher she told her to stay after school. She was settin' there in her desk when school let out, Emmy Lou was."

But a big girl of the neighborhood objected. "Her teacher went home the minute school was out," she declared. "Isn't the new lady, Mrs. Samuels, your teacher?" This to the small boy. "Well, her daughter, Hattie, she's in my room, and she was sick, and her mother came up to our room and took her home. Our teacher, she went down and dismissed the First-Readers. 'I don't care if she did,' retorted the small boy. 'I reckon I saw Emmy Lou settin' there when we come away.'"

Aunt Cordelia, pale and tearful, clutched Uncle Charlie's arm. "Then she's there, Brother Charlie, locked up in that dreadful place—my precious baby—"

"Pshaw!" said Uncle Charlie.

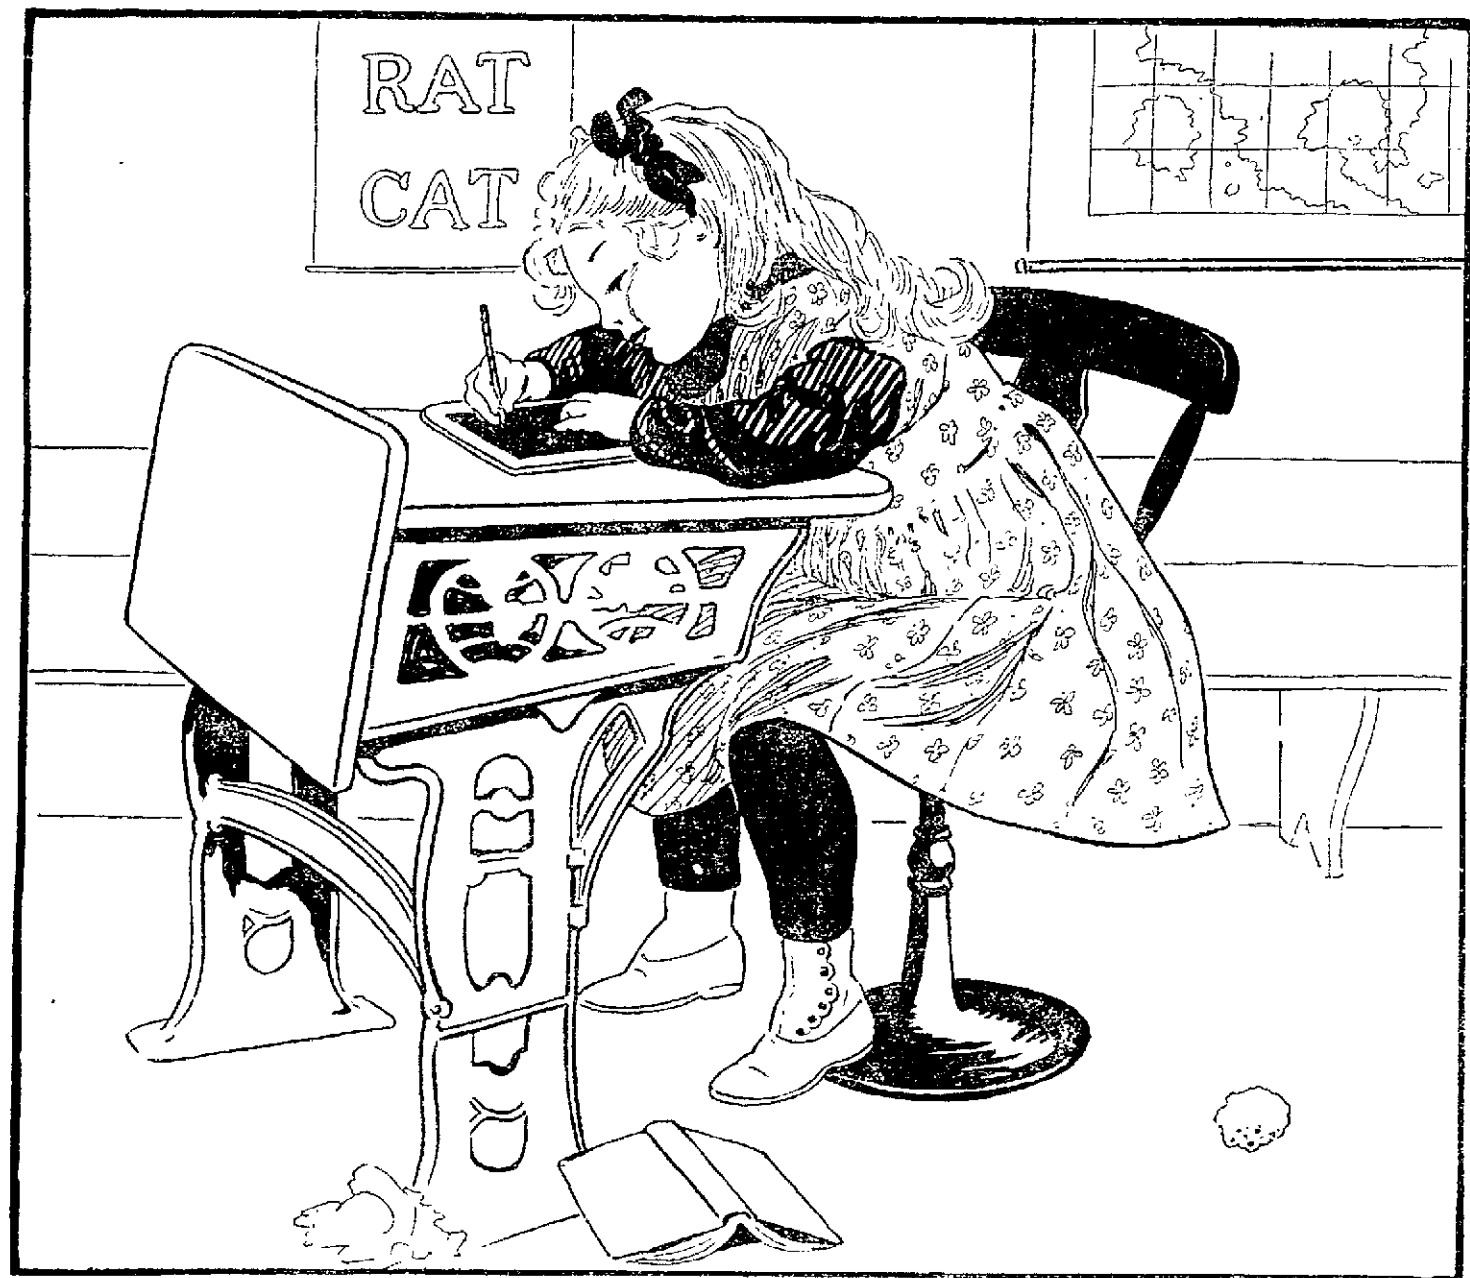

But Aunt Cordelia was wringing her hands. "You don't know Emmy Lou, Charlie. If she was told to stay, she has stayed. She's locked up in that dreadful place—what shall we do, my oh, my, my precious baby—"

Aunt Katie was in tears, Aunt Louise in tears, the cook in loud lamentation, Aunt Cordelia fast verging upon hysteria. The small boy from the First Reader, legs apart, hands in knickerbocker pockets, gazed at the crowd of irresolute elders with scornful wonder. "What you wantin' do," stated the small boy, "is find Uncle Michael; he keeps the keys. He went past my house a while ago, going home. He lives in Rose Lane Alley. 'Tain't much outin' my way," condescendingly, "I'll take 'em there." And meekly they followed in his footsteps.

It was dark when a motley throng of uncles, aunts, visiting girls, neighbors, and children went climbing the cavernous, echoing stairway of the dark school building behind the toiling figure of the skeptical Uncle Michael, lantern in hand.

Aunt Louise swept over every inch of this here school-house—herself and carried the trash outen a dust-pan?" grumbled Uncle Michael, with what inference nobody just then stopped to inquire. Then with the air of a mistreated, aggrieved person who feels himself a victim, he passed before a certain door on the second floor, and fitted a key in its lock. "Here it is then, No 20 satisfy the lady," and he flung up the door. The light of Uncle Michael's lantern fell full upon a wide-eyed, terror-stricken person of Emmy Lou, in her desk, awaiting, her miserable little heart knew not what horror.

"She—she told me to stay," sobbed Emmy Lou in Aunt Cordelia's arms, "and I stayed; and the Man came, and I hid in the coal-box."

confused Emmy Lou, because, for aught she knew, Sue had just Heaven and much else might be included in the words of the compass. Ever since then Emmy Lou had lived with the three aunts and the uncle; and papa had been coming a hundred miles once a month to see her.

When Emmy Lou went back to school for the second year, she was told that she was now in the First Reader. If her heart had jumped at the sharp accents of Miss Clara, it now grew within her at the slow, awful enunciation of the Large Lady in black bombazine who reigned over the department of the First Reader, pointing her morals with a heavy forefinger, before which Emmy Lou's eyes lowered with every aspect of conscious guilt. Nor did Emmy Lou dream that the Large Lady, whose black bombazine was the visible sign of a loss by death that had made it necessary for her to enter the school-room to earn a living, was finding the duties incident to the First Reader almost as strange and perplexing as Emmy Lou herself.

Emmy Lou from the first day found herself descending steadily to the foot of the class; and there she remained until the awful day, at the close of the first week, when the Large Lady, realizing perhaps that she could no longer ignore such indifference to that lowly position, made discovery that while to Emmy Lou "d-o-g" might spell "dog" and "f-r-o-g" might spell "frog," Emmy Lou could not find either on a printed page, and, further,

And Emmy Lou, left sitting at her desk, saw, through gathering tears the face of First-Readers wind around the room and the door, the door, the door of their departing footsteps along the bare corridors and down the echoing stairway coming back like a flood of smoke and a roar. Then class after class filed down the main entrance, and on its clattering wheels, a black velvet curtain of silence, with the joy of release, came up through the open windows in talk, in laughter, together with the patter of feet on the bricks. Then as these familiar sounds grew lower, further away, some belated footsteps went up the stairs, and a door slammed somewhere—then—Emmy Lou waited. She wondered how long it would be, there was watermelon at home for dinner; she had seen it come in, a great, striped promise of ripe and juicy lusciousness on the marketman's shoulder before she came to school. As there a tear, long gathering, splashed down the little pink cheek. Still that awesome personage presiding over the fortunes of the First-Readers failed to return. Perhaps this was the examination into—Emmy Lou could not remember what—she was left in this big, bare room with the flies drooping and hanging in lazy circles up near the ceiling. The first knock, with a half-opened door or a key left behind her, and then, the peep around the walls empty of hats and bonnets, the unoccupied chair upon the platform—Emmy Lou gazed at these

Who Chooses McClure's Chooses Wisely

McCLURE'S MAGAZINE is a synonym for a monthly installment of as good reading as the editorial force of McClure's can prepare or buy. We say "prepare" because McClure's is still following its old plan of employing on its staff men trained to interpret national events in an interesting and informing way. The same staff is able to select from the great number of articles and stories offered to McClure's those which are not only best in themselves, but which also will be most interesting to you.

Big Notes

THERE are always in McClure's two or three great serials which strike the big notes of magazine literature—stories important enough to be books, but offered first in McClure's Magazine. Such are Georgine E. Milmine's Life of Mrs. Eddy, Carl Schurz's inside story of American history, George Kibbe Turner's analyses of the inwardness of American cities, good or bad, Galveston being a type of the good and Chicago being a type of the bad, and finally, Maude Younger's sprightly experiences behind the scenes of New York dairy restaurants.

Bright Notes

THE short story as it is written in this country is one of the best expressions of American life, and is one of the most entertaining forms of reading. McClure's Magazine has always been the marketplace of good stories. Among names you will remember and will want to read again are Rex Beach, Viola Roseboro, Willa Sibert Cather, Perceval Gibbon, Mrs. Wilson Woodrow and Henry C. Rowland.

BUY McClure's on the news stand, if you like to do it that way, but the better way is to subscribe for it by the year, either giving your dollar to the newsdealer or sending it to us. We do not care how you get it, just so you get it regularly.

Doctoring Poor Yard Soil

DESPAIR is too often the real reason why so many yards—both back and front—look remarkably like a deserted brick yard or the floor of an elephant's ball room. Many of these all too numerous eye-sores have had fervent thought, strenuous labor and loving care bestowed upon them during at least one spring, only to be followed by a heart-breaking summer and a jugged-naut crush for a finish in the fall.

Clay in too copious quantities is generally the trouble. Without a little simple kindergarten treatment a heavy clay is a tough proposition for one who longs for a little lawn, a few flowers, and perhaps just enough vegetables to reawaken the almost forgotten taste of really fresh food from the farm.

Soil heavily loaded with clay is a slippery, slimy mess in both spring and fall, needing many weeks of warm sunshine to bring it into condition to fork or spade. When it is roughly broken by dint of muscle and nerve-racking energy, it presents a miscellaneous discouraging mess of clods and lumps on which rake, hoe or even roller make little impression.

Seed planted in such a chaos will strive hard to get a foothold, but between miniature cave openings and flint-like surfaces, it can make little headway. Feeding rootlets of young plants set out in it struggle a bit and give it up and human nature follows suit.

There is a way to remedy this state of affairs and it is cheap. For a starter, dump the ashes from the furnace and the cook-stove on the refractory soil. Break up big clinkers with the flat of the spade; then fork it over and see how much better things go.

When the street gutter is cleaned out, wheel the finely pulverized stone, sand, dead leaves and street washings in and dump that on and you have made it possible for seeds and plants to get a foothold.

There is a porous medium thus provided to absorb and hold moisture instead of letting it run off as fast as it falls. If old manure is at hand, use it and your desires may all be gratified by plant growth of divers kind.

In the fall throw the autumn leaves on your soil and if the soil is still stiff, more street dust mixed in will work wonders.

Sandy soil is more easily handled and more quickly whipped into shape. It works too easily. It blows about and exposes root growth to sun and air; moisture goes through it like a sieve. What it needs is something to bind together the particles of sand and soil and form a sort of catch basin for holding moisture.

Here manure is needed. It will supply the very vital vegetable and other organic matter to absorb, to rot and to bind. And to fertilize and improve in other ways, autumn leaves, grass clippings and even weeds when not carrying seeds will all help to make a soil to grow all sorts of plants.

All the weeds that are cut around the place should be chopped up and buried in this soil. Only be sure to cut all the seed pods and roots away and burn them. If you bury either weed seeds or roots, they will be almost sure to come up.

Many amateur gardeners long for some of the rich black soil that they see in the woods. Well, the right kind (dry, loose, friable black loam) is all right; but the muck or peat which is found in boggy or swampy spots, and which looks most tempting, is unfit for garden use when freshly dug, excepting for aquatic plants. It is tough, fibrous and generally "sour." It should, therefore, be dug during the summer, thrown in a heap and left for the winter frosts to work on it. However, it may be utilized sparingly for immediate use if it is put into deep holes in the garden and covered with three or five inches of dry loam. If this top covering of loam is frequently worked, it often produces excellent results. After one season the loam may be spaded into the muck, and the result will be an exceptionally rich soil.

The Value of Trees

When people move into a new house there is something that they generally neglect, or at least leave till the last. That is the study and care of the trees that are planted on the street line. As a matter of fact, these should be attended to first. The garden can be made and re-made any number of times. The trees are there to stay. The trees on the street have more to do with making or marring the effect of a house than the garden has, in many cases. See that the soil around the street trees is dug deep at least once a week, and to at least the depth of half the spade. Prune them every fall. In the spring trim off all winter-killed wood. Tie a band of cotton around each one about five feet up the trunk early in the spring, to prevent caterpillars from climbing up. Watch for borers. Five minutes of attention a day may save your trees. And in a few years your house will be worth from one to five per cent. more than one that has neglected trees in front of it.
